Vision of Head-Organisers

Session theme: "Awakening potential by reaching youth activism"

The youth today use the means actively rioting and professing our position on the issues we are siding with. Thus, we are full of potential, enthusiasm, and great working capacity. In this session by, academically and socially, challenging you we aim to reach true youth activism.

As a member of EYP, we are glad to mention that EYP is a safe place where we can be ourselves, leave our comfort zones, and practice youth activism in very unique ways. And we want the new generation to shape the future by experiencing EYP and enjoying it as much as we did. Keeping in mind that we had plenty of digital sessions, after a long time having a physical International Forum, we thought it was the best time to get back to physical ones. Thus, we came up with a unique format to gather all the participants of this session at an available time in a physical format. This format gathers University students in a suitable period, which will give the students a chance to adjust EYP into their summer holiday. Here they will Improve academically, broaden their horizons, and experience EYP in the best possible way.

The university students, especially the first-timers, will practice EYP, debate together and share their opinions/ideas, get the chance to look from different perspectives, and expand their knowledge; hence, uncover their potential. For reaching these aims, we will be having experts per committees, where the participant will look at the topic from different aspects, ask questions, and brainstorm together. Moreover, by having plenty of activities, by using the chance nature gives us in the campus, they will not only work on resolutions but also enjoy the session. We live in a changing world, everyone can see that, but this time we won't be focusing on the pandemic. As we think everyone is a bit tired of that, but also because it's not the most vital change, although we don't want to downplay its impact. It did however reveal that if we want to better the world, solve our problems and fix what is broken, we'll have to work together. In the Izmir University Session we want to academically challenge our participants to discover global issues, and practice youth activism, problem-solving, and critical thinking.
